The screenshot shows the One Source Horse website interface. At the top, there is a search bar with the text "Enter your search terms" and "All Sections" next to a magnifying glass icon. Below the search bar is the "Advanced Search" link. The main navigation bar includes "Our Story", "Our Favorite Links", "Community", "Take A Tour", "Contact", "Dashboard | Switch Profile", and a dropdown menu for "Cathy (Trainer)". In the top right corner, there is a link for "Edit Account / Logout".

On the left side, there is a "Get started It's Free" section with the text "Managing Your Horse Has Never Been Easier - Start today. Open your OSH account. You and your horse will be glad you did." Below this are several bullet points: "Upload your horse's feed, medical and other records is quick and easy", "Share important information with vets, trainers and other professionals", "Keep track of your equipment", "Track your horse's training progress", and "Upload and watch your lesson videos between lessons". A "Click Here" button is located at the bottom of this section.

In the center, there is a large image of a person riding a white horse. Below the image is the text "Upload video of your lessons and coaching sessions with your trainer" and "Keep notes on your shows, lessons, favorite trails and much more."

At the bottom, there is a "Video Gallery" section with a video titled "Practice this simple and stress free method of mane pulling demonstrated by Lynn Palm on Larks Home Run." and another video titled "Bluebird Lane".

On the right side, there is a "OSH On Facebook" section with a "Like" button and a text post that reads: "If you didn't get this book for Christmas...get it now! It is a must read for all riders and drivers who want to be better. The book features personal anecdotes and interviews with 25 top competitive riders in the United States, this examination of what it takes". Below this, it says "18 people like One Source Horse." and shows profile pictures of Debra, Gale, and Celia.

Red lines connect the text annotations on the left to the following features: "Get in touch. Ask questions or suggest changes." points to the "Contact" link; "Change your account information at any time." points to the "Edit Account / Logout" link; "Create one or more profiles. Go to your dashboard to see your current profile." points to the "Dashboard | Switch Profile" link; and "You can manage personal and professional profiles (or any other profile) separately." points to the "Cathy (Trainer)" dropdown menu.
